Every performance of Gustav Mahler's third symphony is a special occasion, but with the European Doctors' Orchestra performing for The Christie Charity, this promises to be a spectacular evening.

Originally titled 'The Joyful Science', the symphony journeys from the dawn of time itself to the pinnacle of human achievement, love, exploring on the way what it is to be human, and the interaction between mankind, science and nature. With a huge orchestra, St George's Singers, choristers of Blackburn and Salford Cathedral, and Mezzo soprano Sarah Castle (Royal Opera House, Bayreuth Festival) for company, prepare to be moved to tears by this utterly unique symphony.

The Christie charity supports the development of cancer prevention, treatment, research, and education through investment in staff, equipment, facilities and other services that are over and above what the NHS funds.

The Christie charity can only be successful thanks to the fantastic support we receive from every single fundraiser. Our dedicated supporters help to ensure our patients and their families receive the best care and treatment, allowing us to remain at the forefront of cancer research advancements.
